

For female RMG workers, maternity benefits remain a concept only as factories sack them or reduce pay. For workers and businesses alike, paying a pregnant woman or new mother with reduced productivity is almost an alien notion.